BOMBAY GAZETTE EXCHANGE STERLING TABLE.

PRICE Rs. 2.

THE Bombay Gazette STERLING EXCHANGE TABLE is a small neatly bound BOOK covering all RATES in 32nds, both Sterling into Rupees and Rupees into Sterling, from 1s. 3 3-4d. to 1s. 4 23-32d. The Book will, it is found, supply a long-felt want, as since the stoppage of the free coinage of silver, rates have varied well within those given both for Demand and six months' Currency Bills, and the extensive and expensive tables in general use are now no longer required. The form adopted will also greatly facilitate the conversion of broken amounts.

The cheapest, best, and most convenient.—Vide Press notices

"MAX" IN "CAPITAL" SAYS:—"To anyone in want of a most handy set of Exchange Tables, I would recommend the little volume published by The Bombay Gazette. Its range is from 1s. 3 3-4d. to 1s. 4 23-32d., advancing on the sterling side by 32nds up to £100,000, and on the rupee side from 1 pie up to Rs. 10,000,000. The calculations are carried out to two decimal places of the lowest coins. The size of the book is 8 1-2in. by 5 1-2 in. and consists of 65 pages of clear type, well printed and well got-up in every way. If anyone would like to verify these statements and at the same time come into possession of a valuable commercial assistant, he can do so for the modest outlay of two rupees.

TRIED MANY THINGS WITHOUT BENEFIT UNTIL I TOOK CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE.

Mr. F. E. Lewis, 48, Bridge Street Row, Chester writes :—"Just a line in favour of 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.' I had eczema for seven months, and tried many things without benefit until I took your remedy. After the eighth bottle I was quite well again. Please accept this letter as a token of gratitude to your wonderful 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.'" —June 13, 1903.

A LADY TYPIST.

Offers Real Help—

Our Readers continue to show extraordinary interest in the series of Opinions and Experiences of the People which appear here at short intervals, and we are assured by numberless correspondents that the information is an invaluable help to them. Practical evidence of the utility of these Opinions is contained in a letter received from Miss O. E. W., a Lady Typist, who writes from Aston Manor. Miss W. says that she was compelled to give up business owing to nervous collapse resulting from overwork. Failing to obtain relief from her doctor, and noticing how Universal is the belief in Phosferine, she decided to try the effect of the renowned Tonic. The immediate and permanent relief which followed the administration of Phosferine enabled Miss W. to resume her business almost at once, and so grateful is the young lady that she offers to help in every possible way to make known the remarkable and unfailing curative properties of Phosferine.

And Wants it Known.

Miss O. E. W.——, Aston Manor, writes:—"It gives me great pleasure to be able to testify to the excellence of your wonderful nerve remedy Phosferine. I have derived infinite benefit from the use of it, and have recommended it to many of my friends. I suffered very severely with my nerves for some considerable time, and I am glad to say that through the aid of Phosferine I am decidedly better and shall certainly do my best to make it more widely known. I had suffered for some time with very severe pains in my head. I went to the doctor but got little or no relief and was induced to try Phosferine, which I did with most satisfactory results. I have taken three bottles and feel quite myself again, in fact, decidedly better than I have felt for at least 12 months." I am a Typist and find it exceedingly trying to the Nerves. During the heaviest week I had since I have been to business (which is just over four years) my nerves suddenly gave way without any warning whatever. I had to give up business for some time and could not bear to hear anyone speak or move. It was the most horrible experience I have ever had, but in future I shall know what remedy to try. Allow me to again express my very high opinion of Phosferine and assure you that I shall always recommend it to my friends."—Feb. 14, 1905.

The Royal Example.

BOMBAY, FRIDAY, SEPT 29.

Another September storm swept over the Central Provinces early in the week giving heavy rain averaging 6 to 7 inches, and it was the cause of slight rain in parts of the Berars. Instead of continuing the usual North-Westerly course, it filled up suddenly, and only light showers have been reported in other parts of the country during the week. The Meteorological Department states that a renewed depression is forming in the Bay which may give a further rainfall in the ensuing week. These storms accompany the usual seasonal change at this time of the year and as a rule the rain does no harm to the growing crops. The damage is generally done when we have heavy rain in November at which time all rabi crops are usually ready for harvesting.

We have nothing fresh to add to our last mail reports on the crops. Cotton plants are flourishing in all quarters and most satisfactory advices continue to be received. Kuppas is arriving freely in some of the early Bengals markets, but the demand for this new cotton is not very brisk. This is in great contrast to the rush for early arrivals last year when up-country Mills were eager buyers, having run short of stocks. The present position is that there are fair stocks in all Mills, and a moderate quantity of last season's cotton is still available in up-country markets at a considerable discount on prices of new arrivals.

There is a large trade demand in Calcutta for money and for some weeks past by far the larger bulk of the Council Bills have been allotted to that city. In Bombay the opening of our export season is still some weeks ahead, and until after the Diwalli, which falls this year on the 27th and 28th October, we are not likely to have any big enquiry for funds to move crops. Supplies are abundant while the demand, for the present, is slack.

Rupee paper remains steady in the neighbourhood of Rs. 99 per cent for ready and forward delivery, with little doing in the bazaar. Mill shares have again lately been attracting attention, and with the good prospects in view for the coming season, coupled with large profits in hand, in the case of some Mills, prices are advancing.

COTTON.

One of those flatters, for which this speculative market is so noted, was successfully engineered during the past ten days, and the price of futures on America was carried up some 60 points. Of course all the markets of the world were effected, but as prices advanced spot sales declined, and it is quite possible that the pendulum may now swing in the opposite direction for a time, until the Bulls again see their way to have another flutter. The question of actual supply and demand has almost ceased to govern prices and it is the enormous speculative turnover which now rules the market. It is a curious fact to note that while the spot price in New York is anything from 40 to 70 points ahead of the spot price in New Orleans, the price of futures in New York is a few points lower than in New Orleans. In Liverpool for some weeks past the spot and future quotations show very small margins. We understand that Spinners so far have shown little interest in new cotton as they are largely covered with stocks from last season's enormous crop. It remains to be seen how speculation will manœuvre the prices as Stocks again increase with the new crops now coming to market, and at what rates the actual demand for the goods will [illegible] and no doubt further fluctuations will occur in the immediate future.

The following are the daily closing quotations for Spot Middling Americans in Liverpool and New York during the past week.

There has been a little more life in our local market since last mail left, but business is still far from brisk. There was a moderate enquiry from exporters for spot cotton to complete September shipments, and we also hear that there has been some improvement in the demand from the Continent. The total year's shipments to Europe show a large deficiency on the average of the past few years. While exporters are interested in the balance of the old crop available for shipment, the enquiry for new crops is very limited. An occasional sale to a European house is reported, but the business is actually so small that special attention is drawn to any transaction of the sort. The local mills are as usual in the market, but their purchases of new crop are also limited up to the present time. There is nothing in the position of the article to cause any anxiety about the immediate future. Crop reports continue to be most favourable and large estimates are already being formed of the receipts into Bombay during the ensuing season. Prices have not fluctuated to any great extent during the week, and both sellers and buyers are holding aloof at present waiting for the American crop reports which will shortly be issued.

SEEDS AND WHEAT.

These markets have been slightly firmer since our last mail report. The local Sutta transactions in Linseed, especially, are large, and the September bazaar settlement is effecting the prices. Advices from home are also better, and more business is doing for export in oilseeds.

LINSEED.—This market was firm throughout the week and prices have advanced both for ready and forward delivery.

RAPESEED.—This article is also steady with rather more enquiry for export. Stocks are very low.

POPPYSEED.—Is steady at about last mail quotations.

CASTORSEED.—Is also steady and prices have advanced about 8 annas per candy.

GINGELLY SEED.—The tone of the market is steady. There is more enquiry for export and the tendency is towards higher prices.

WHEAT.—Quiet but steady. Prices are unchanged but there is a better demand for export.

The offtake continues poor and averages about 20 bars daily. We close quiet at the undernoted rates :—

SOME POWERFUL PROOF.

OF HOW BILE BEAN CURES LAST.

Bile Beans cure not for a day or a week, but for good. An impartial judge recently selected a number of testimonials published several months ago—in some cases two years ago—and wrote to the persons cured, asking if the cure had been permanent. 80 satisfactory were the replies, that they were forwarded to the Bile Bean Co. for inspection. Here are a few of them:—

Miss E. Noyce, 64, Savona Street, Battersea Park Road, London, (England) writes: "It is quite true that my mother is cured, and is still well by taking Chas. Forde's Bile Beans. Nothing did her any good, and the doctor could do no more for her and then someone told us to try Bile Beans. I can only say that they made my mother a new woman." (Cured of indigestion, &c.

Eliza Mason, of 16, Grafton Street, Grimsby; (England) writes:—I have to be very thankful for having taken Bile Beans, for I thought I was broken up in health, but they set me right, and I am enjoying better health now than for years. (Cured of headache, and debility).

Alfred Curtis, Thornford, Sherbourne, (England) writes:—I thank God I am well, though I will be soon seventy-six years of age. For almost five years doctors just kept me alive, that was all. I could not lie down in bed for my breath was so bad I could hardly move about. Before I was through my first bottle of Bile Beans I was up and able to walk in the garden. In three weeks I could walk through the village; the people all wondering at the change in me. I am happy to say I can now walk to Sherbourne, four miles distant. I assure you it is Bile Beans that have made this change in me. They cured me of biliousness, liver complaint, and palpitation,

There were many more to similar effect. Original letters were submitted to a prominent firm of auditors and chartered accountants, who certified correctness of all extracts. If you suffer from indigestion, headache, liver trouble, biliousness, constipation, piles, or debility, remember that Bile Beans cure these ailments.

They may be obtained from all Medicine vendors or post paid and packed free from the Bile Bean Mfg. Co.'s Head Indian Depot, 30 Strand Road, Calcutta, on receipt of prices : Rs. 1-2 per bottle small size, 6 bottles Rs. 6. Large size (containing three times the small) Rs. 2-8. per bottle.

FREE SAMPLE :—A free sample of Bile Beans will be sent to all readers who cut out this coupon and send with [illegible] to the Bile Bean Mfg. Co.

GOUT and RHEUMATIC PILLS,

THE CURE FOR

GOUT AND RHEUMATISM.

THE never-failing effects of EADE'S GOUT and RHEUMATIC PILLS in curing these distressingly painful diseases have spread to them a celebrity unequalled by any medicine of past or present times. They not only give relief in a few hours where the patient has been driven almost to madness by the horrible excruciating tortures of this disease, but restore perfect health in an incontrovertibly short space of time—in most cases giving relief from the intolerable pain in one or two hours; one bottle will frequently carry off the attack in two or three days, even when the patient has kept his bed for as many weeks, and sometimes months.

The authenticated proofs of decided approbation, sent unsolicited to the Proprietor, from all parts of the kingdom and from all classes of society, with a rapidly increasing sale, and a demand for them at home and abroad unparalleled fully warrants the assurance that no person subject to these disorders will, after a trial, be without them.

BLUTHNER'S PIANOS ARE IDEAL PIANOFORTES.

THE BLUTHNER PIANOFORTES must not be classed with the productions by makers who are keen in the battle-royal of competition as to who could produce an inferior Piano at the smallest possible cost. Mr. JULIUS BLUTHNER has secured the World's Highest honours by dint of energy and determination to perfect his productions and to construct Musical Instruments in accordance with the most approved modern standards and requirements worthy of the name of Pianofortes and to sell them at a moderate price which, compared with public waste of money on worthless articles, is not an excessive sum. The Bluthner Pianofortes are the only Instruments which will help to radically change one's whole life in the matter of Music in a few days. The mysterious secret of their wonderful success and their wonderful influence on Musical people is their marvellous Brilliancy, Sweetness and sympathy in Tone. The actions of the Bluthner Pianofortes being soft, easy and uniform, have the effect of rousing the pupil and the musician from careless interest to the highest possible attainment which natural ability warrants. They are the only Pianos specially built for India, possessing soulful music in every string. All musicians regard the time when they started using a Bluthner Pianoforte as the best days of their lives.

BLUTHNER'S PIANOS ARE IDEAL PIANOFORTES.

THE BLUTHNER PIANOFORTES must not be classed with the productions by makers who are keen in the battle-royal of competition as to who could produce an inferior Piano at the smallest possible cost. Mr. JULIUS BLUTHNER has secured the World's Highest honours by dint of energy and determination to perfect his productions and to construct Musical Instruments in accordance with the most approved modern standards and requirements worthy of the name of Pianofortes and to sell them at a moderate price which, compared with public waste of money on worthless articles, is not an excessive sum. The Bluthner Pianofortes are the only Instruments which will help to radically change one's whole life in the matter of Music in a few days. The mysterious secret of their wonderful success and their wonderful influence on Musical people is their marvellous Brilliancy, Sweetness and sympathy in Tone. The actions of the Bluthner Pianofortes being soft, easy and uniform, have the effect of rousing the pupil and the musician from careless interest to the highest possible attainment which natural ability warrants. They are the only Pianos specially built for India, possessing soulful music in every string. All musicians regard the time when they started using a Bluthner Pianoforte as the best days of their lives.

BIG GAME IN CENTRAL AFRICA.

THE attractions of big game shooting in Central Africa have been recently set forth in a series of papers in the "Empire Review" by Mr Arthur Pearson, who raises a timely protest against killing for killing' sake. The native beater would have his employer kill everything he sees and it seems this unreasoning thirst for blood is not confined to persons of the beaters' colour and education. One white man wiped out a head of seven eland in a day, while another shot no less than fourteen buck in a single morning. The bag of the former meant at least seven thousand pounds of meat and had only to feed thirty or forty native hands. There was not even so much excuse for the second. Wanton destruction of big game, such as this, spoils sport, and it must year by year become more difficult to get at, but the beater does all he can to induce the shikari to kill. Mr. Pearson tells of an encounter with a herd of roan antelope. He had shot two when the herd pulled up short and turning faced him in a group, as though they were tired of being followed about and were determined to have the matter settled once and for all. One great bull, four cows and a three-quarters grown calf stood at about 120 yards taking stock. "Having shot what meat I wanted" writes Mr. Pearson, "I had no wish to kill more and contented myself with watching them and laughing at Nassolo, who was most amusing. He was unable to account for my scruples and evidently thought that my attitude after our long morning's toil was that of a madman. He danced wildly at my side, pointing out the herd, as though he thought my eye-sight must be at fault and frantically screaming to me to shoot. The more extravagant he became the more I laughed at him, and he apparently entertained the roan as well, for they must have stood for nearly two minutes before they fled. The boy readily understood when I explained that I had no wish to feed hyenas." The visits of British sportsmen to Central Africa, if pursued on lines such as Mr. Pearson adopted, cannot be without a good effect, though the chances are the temptation to take advantage of the excellent mark afforded by the standing antelope would have proved too strong for many.

Mr. Pearson does not tell us of any hairbreadth escapes. These, he apprehends belong rather to the hero of Central African fiction than to the ordinary sane dweller in that part of the world—much less to a medical practitioner such as he. He finds that the dangers which one can conjure up in the imagination are legion, those actually encountered are few and far between. His memories contain but one story of dangerous encounter, but many of strenuous patient tramps up rugged forest-clad hills, across deep tangled gullies where the swollen torrent brawls down from above, or through the long grassy maze of the untrodden woods below. But through all, he adds, runs that spirit of expectancy which every sportsman knows so well, it is an old spirit handed down to us by ancestors, who lived in caves, wore skins, and hunted that they might live; shared no doubt by all the beasts of the forest and unworthy of the super-excellent human race living in the light of a twentieth century intellect and theory. And yet there is that in it which thrills and creeps into the blood to remain there, if only as a memory, for ever" But not with all sportsmen have their experiences been of dangerous encounter—which is fortunate, for the knowledge keeps alive that spirit of expectancy which makes the sportsman cautious. It may be, however, that, compared with sport in India, that of Central Africa is less dangerous. Big game in this country finds its domain yearly more crowded upon and must make fight for it. There may be also too many shikaris, and too many inexperienced ones, who invite danger. Mr. Pearson's lion encounter is perhaps unique. He had ridden out on a bicycle to meet a patient, who had sustained a gun accident. Suddenly he found himself on top of two lions. They were lying down in the grass to the right of the path and within a couple of yards of it. "We caught sight of one another almost simultaneously, when I was about fifteen yards from them. They both sprung to their feet with a deep growl and stood for a few seconds looking at me. I jammed the brake down hard, but it seemed ages before I could stop the bicycle. When I did get off, which I succeeded in doing within two or three yards of the lions, I started to try and get my rifle off the bicycle. Never have I found a knot more obstinate, or calico harder to tear, for my rifle-clip proving inefficient I had used a calico bondage in its place. However the lions themselves relieved the tension. After standing, broadside on at me for a second or two, growling continuously, they bounded away down the slope, frightened possibly by the rattling of the bicycle, as much as by me. It must have appeared to them quite a new kind of animal, evidently not good to eat."

The escape was narrow enough to satisfy most appetites. For the lions—or one of the them—the escape was only temporary. It was subsequently bagged and a more ignominious ending to a day's sport cannot be imagined. The head was taken out of a tree by a leopard, the skin stolen by a hyena, while the carcass was eaten by the mate in whose company it had been met by Mr. Pearson. Leopards are plentiful and come in quite close to villages and zebra so numerous that three were mysteriously wounded on one occasion with a single shot. Sable, eland, dinker, klipspringer, countless antelope, civet-cats five feet long, all fall to the gun in a single day if the sportsman wishes to make his collection of trophies as the American tourist "does the continent." Commissioners and local officials must shoot not for trophies but for food, and it may be they will not hesitate to take what the keen sportsman would regard as [illegible] few white [illegible] must bowl over edible wild beasts, whether their heads approach records or not. Native chiefs are helpful to sportsmen if properly approached, and Mr. Pearson confesses to a weakness for these old villains, slave traders though they were till recently, and no doubt still are when they get a chance, with their crafty smiling faces and diplomatic tongues. Still in the vicinity of some of their villages there is little game, and it is not profitable to set out on an expedition without first consulting someone in authority and with extensive local acquaintance. Even then he will like assurances that the visitor is a sportsman and not a butcher or a ferret.

THE EXPLOSION IN THE CANAL.

THE telegram which we publish in another column relating to the blowing up of the s. s. Chatham is of far greater interest than would be the case, had delay of the mails been the only matter concerned. It was prophesied that the Canal would be blocked for a fortnight, and now we are told that the stoppage will not be more than four days. When it is considered that the charge of dynamite is probably the largest ever intentionally exploded, the result can be accepted as a fair test of what has been talked of for so many years. The very convenience of the Canal makes it a danger to English communication with India. It has always been said that the first open act of any Russian attack on India would be blowing up the Canal. It has now been blown up and the delay to traffic is almost negligible. It is only reasonable to suppose that every effort is being made to expedite the work of restoring the Canal to use, but even so the value of labour available is considerably lower than would be the case if the Canal were deliberately blown up as a means of destroying our power in the East. The act itself would entail the proximity of troops who would be able to repair the damage. From accounts received from passengers on the "Arabia", the Chatham was lying on the Eastern bank, some twenty miles from Port Said. At this point the bank is composed entirely of sand built up to withstand the wash of passing boats and is one of the weakest spots that could be chosen. Beyond the bank lies desert and salt pans. One would therefore, expect that here the Canal would suffer most from an explosion. Yet the result has been that only two hundred yards of bank have been destroyed. The spot comes within the belt which has been widened and the Western bank, including the fresh water canal, and the railway is intact. There is no doubt that the difficulty of clearing the passage would have been greater, had the explosion been a few miles further on where the channel is cut through one of the few rocky tracts which the engineers encountered. The displacement power of the dynamite under such conditions would have been greater, in that it would have more responsive material upon which to work.

Dynamite exerts its force in the line of greatest resistance, and where sand acts as a buffer, the rocky bed would be shattered as well as the sides. The difference between the difficulty of clearing sand and rock is enormous but the present explosion shows that we have little to fear from any deliberate attempt to destroy the canal. In view of the size of our army in India the only benefit that could accrue to the Russians would be a naval one, and by the treaty ratified in Paris it is impossible for the Black Sea fleet to pass the Dardanelles with sufficient ease to enable it to harass the English ships protecting the Port Said entrance. We have already seen the value of Russian naval work in the Far East, and this combined with the comparatively slight effect produced by the explosion entirely lays the bogey which it has hitherto been quite reasonable to fear. There are still further lessons to be learned, however, from the accident to the "Chatham", lessons which should be taken to heart and acted upon swiftly. The Suez Canal has become so enormous a factor in the trade of the world that it is high time the work of widening were pushed on with greater vigour. A delay of even four days means a great loss to the mercantile community affected at the time. In addition adequate widening of the Canal would allow of greater speed than the present six miles an hour and the increased size of the new boats under construction for the P. and O. Company shows that the time is approaching when the ocean grey hound will not be confined to the Atlantic and when vessels of over twenty thousand tons are necessary to cope with the traffic the Canal as it now exists will be unavailable.

RUGBY UNION TACTICS.

CHANGES of tactics in our national sports have not been frequent in recent years. Changes in rules there have been, and where a game is played rather for the sake of the spectator than for the game itself, the development is liable to be more hasty than judicious. If the spectator is offended by a constant succession of "line outs" and scrummages he would substitute for them something less tedious to watch. If the groundsman devotes his time to producing "billiard-table" wickets in order to keep the batsman in, the spectator would increase the height of the wicket or diminish the width of the bat in order to get the batsman out. Under the Rugby Union, while some adjustment of the rules will also be necessary, changes do not take place in the actual playing of the game unless they are of proved worth in increasing the efficiency of a team. In England, of late, there has almost seemed to have reached a finality in tactics. Occasionally a new method has been cultivated with success by a particular team, such as Vassall's system of short passing among the forwards. But the present arrangement of an English team is generally accepted as the approved means of securing the best results from a combination of fifteen players. New Zealand, however, thinks otherwise. The team from that country which was to have played its first match in England, the week the mail left, puts in the field seven forwards and a "wing forward," who is not in the "scrum," one half back to look after the "scrum," two "flying halves," and three three-quarters. New Zealand has produced many fine players, and the system which she has adopted is not to be condemned off-hand. Although we think it unlikely that the New Zealanders will demonstrate the inferiority of the Welsh system.

SWISS NATIONAL INDUSTRIES.

THE Swiss Customs Department has just issued its rather belated annual report on the national industries. During 1904 the watch industry felt more keenly than any other the effects of the war, the Russian demand being greatly reduced. In addition to this the shipment of watchesto England showed a continued falling off. Owing to greater takings by other markets, however, the year showed a trifling improvement on its predecessor. The silk industry began the year with gloomy prospects, and it was not until the second half of 1904 that an improvement set in towards the close of 1904, the silk weaving industry was satisfactorily engaged for the first time after many years of depression. The embroidery industry had in the preceding period of good trade greatly increased its productive capacity, which at the beginning of 1904 remained in full working. The acute depression of that year resulted in the flooding of markets with cheap goods, which in the main, were shipped to the States. Towards the close of the year a tendency towards normal trade set in, which continued into the new year. The chocolate, dye-stuffs, and straw industries achieved record turnovers during the year. On the other hand, the boot and shoe industry found it difficult to export, and had to rely mainly on the home market.

BRITISH SHIPPING AND THE TRADE OF HEDJAZ.

THE trade of the Hedjazvilayet during the last five years, it is interesting to note, has been steadily progressing, and finally made a very remarkable advance in 1904, which, it is believed, is being maintained at present and in [illegible]

Jeddah British shipping is making considerable headway, largely owing to the transfer of the Khedivial Mail Steamship Company, five years ago, from the Egyptian to the British flag, which has added about 45,000 tons to the yearly total according to Consul Mr. Devey's report for the years 1900-1904. Other contributory causes mentioned are Messrs. A Holt's recent absorption of the China Mutual Company's ships, and the fact that some old P. and O. and British India ships sold off have been introduced for Indian pilgrim traffic. This improvement in shipping, however, Mr. Devey remarks, is not accompanied by an increase of direct trade with the United Kingdom; on the contrary British trade has been declining.

LADY LAMINGTON has arranged to leave London on Sept. 22nd for Bombay.

THE Hon'ble Mr. C. S. Bayley, Resident at Hyderabad, is on a short visit to Simla.

THE agreement on the Morocco question, which has been signed, has given complete satisfaction in Paris.

ONE of the most interesting items at the Nelson centenary meeting the Albert Hall is to be to be presentation of a bust of Nelson to be sent to Admiral Togo.

THE explosion of s. s. Chatham has done very little damage to the Canal. Only 600 feet of the eastern bank has been destroyed.

MIXED feelings are reported from Russia over the Anglo-Japanese Treaty. On the one hand it is felt to be a threat to Russia, on the other to be a desirable check on the Ministers' expansion policy.

ABOUT three square miles of land are being acquired by the Government of the Frontier Province near Nowshera for the site of a new cantonment 4 1-2 miles, on the Nowshera-Mardan road, north of the Marble Rocks.

THE dinner given by the United Service Club at Simla last night to Lord Curzon was private, the Press not being represented. We will, however, be able to publish his Excellency's speech in our evening edition to-day.

THE large number of passengers which arrived yesterday, in the P. and O. Co's Mail steamer Arabia, namely 344, is a signal for the approaching season. Among those who arrived were Lady Jenkins, Sir and Lady Cowasjee Jehangir, Mr and Mrs. C. W. Chitty and Professor O. V. Muller.

IN the future the United Provinces is to be divided into three police circles instead of two. The date when the arrangement will come into force is unsettled. Mr. J. N. Sharpe will take over the charge of the Railway Police in November, from Mr. Parsons who becomes Deputy Inspector-General of the 1st Circle.

NEWS reaches us from Chumbi that the Dalai Lama is returning to Lhassa at the invitation of many influential Lamas of Tibet. This will create a new element in the Tibetan situation, as the final adjustment of Sir Francis Younghusband's treaty is still hanging fire between Mr. Fraser and the Chinese plenipotentiary, Mr. Tang.

BY the end of the current month, the revised regulations of the Punjab University ought to be ready, but university reform, even on paper, has proved a slow process, and the Lieutenant-Governor has now extended the period provided for the preparation of the revised regulations by a further period of six months, namely up to the 31st March next.

GENERAL DOUGLAS HAIG, accompanied by his brigade major, Major Macandrew, will leave Simla on the 2nd October, and inspect the cavalry camp near Quetta, consisting of the 35th, 36th and 37th Cavalry, between the 5th and 15th October. He then proceeds to Loralai to inspect the 32nd Lancers on the 16th, and next to Mooltan to inspect the 12th Cavalry.

HIS EXCELLENCY Rear-Admiral Poe, who has been appointed to the command of the East India Squadron, arrived in Bombay yesterday morning in the P. and O. Arabia. On the mail steamer dropping the anchor the Admiral proceeded direct on board the flagship Hyacinth, which fired a salute of 13 guns. To-day his Excellency will take charge of his office from Vice-Admiral Sir Atkinson-Willes. To-day his Excellency Vice Admiral Sir Atkinson-Willes leaves for England in the s. s. Malta. Captain the Hon Hood, Commanding the flagship who was to have returned with the retiring Admiral to-day has been unavoidably detained in Bombay owing to the illness at Portsmouth of his successor, Captain Nicholson.

IN a case against one Yusuf Kabsar, a bench of Honorary Presidency Magistrates at Girgaum fined the accused and ordered him to execute a bond to keep the peace. On an application made to Mr. Kemp, then acting Chief Magistrate, to forfeit the bond, he was of opinion that the Honorary Presidency Magistrates had no power (or the reasons he gave) to order the accused, convicted of an offence involving a breach of the peace to enter into a bond under section 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Mr. Kemp thereupon submitted for the opinion of the Bombay High Court a point of law as follows:—Are the powers of a Presidency Magistrate, under section 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, exercisable by a bench of Honorary Presidency Magistrates, not specifically empowered by the Chief Presidency Magistrate to exercise those powers? The High Court has made the following answer to the question:—The powers of a bench of Honorary Magistrates are conferred by Legislature, and the Chief Presidency Magistrate has no power either to confer, restrict, or enlarge those powers.

MISS WILLIAMSON, who describes himself as "Ex-heavy Weight Champion of South Australia," has challenged Sergeant "Tiger" Smith, 10th Hussars, to fight to a finish for £200 a side. Sergeant Smith has accepted.

A correspondent of the "Hospital" makes a startling statement. She says that there is an isolation hospital in Northamptonshire which contains 80 beds, and is not only without a trained matron, but does not possess a trained nurse. In fact she names the institution, to which she was herself attached for nearly two years. The urgent importance of a trained nurse in an isolation hospital containing 80 beds does not need to be argued, but the correspondent is able to prove from her own experience the danger of only untrained persons being in attendance on the patients. The hospital, in question, is not under the jurisdiction of Poor Law Guardians.

CANON MARGOSCHIS, who is now visiting Australia, was interviewed at Perth. When he was asked if there was resentment in India to the White Australia policy, Canon Margoschis said:—"There is indeed, among both Europeans and natives. They consider that Australia is acting very short sightedly, as that the policy of a White Australia must break down. If Australia is to be prosperous, she must employ alien labour. You are aware, of course, of the Chinese boycott of American goods, and if Australia persists in her policy of exclusion, she need not be surprised to see the same policy carried out there in regard to Australian goods."

INDIA has trained so many soldiers and administrators—often both combined in one personality—for the benefit of Africa, that she might well claim a prescriptive right to a large share of the appointments on that Continent especially as her pupils have invariably done her credit. There will in all probability says the "Pioneer" be a vacancy soon to fill in British Central Africa, Sir Alfred Sharpe, Commissioner and Consul-General intending it is said, to retire very shortly. One name mentioned prominently in this connection is that of General Sir William Manning, whose career since he left his Indian regiment for service in Africa has been remarkable at once for its success and (rarer still) the generous recognition it has received from the authorities.

MISS ELIZABETH ADELAIDE MANNING, of Pembridgecresent, W., hon. Secretary of the National Indian Association, who died on August 10, aged 77 years left estate of the gross value of £23,458, including net personalty of £23,768. By her will she bequeathed £4,000 to the National Indian Association, in aid of social progress and educat on in India, £2,000 to Girton College

FEAR AND RELIEF IN RUSSIA.

COMMERCE AS AID TO PEACE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, SEPT. 28.

The "Novoe Vremya" says that the Anglo-Japa- Alliance enslaves Asia and is aimed particularly Russia and enables the Allies to co-operate either the eventual British annexation of a portion of ghanistan or of Northern Sakhalin by Japan. Therefore Russia must counterbalance it by a alliance.

Liberal circles at St. Petersburg welcome the liance as tending to restrain aggressive policy and centrate the attention of Russia on the improve- nt of her home situation.

LONDON, SEPT. 29.

The "Standard" says that Count Lamsdorff terday received the Master of Elibank and pressed a desire that the entente cordiale should strengthened by Great Britain with closer com- rcial relations. This would, he said, go far to ure peace throughout the world. The Tsar fully red these views, Count Lamsdorff concurred and pressed that mutual misunderstandings had created needless prejudice.

THE BREACH ON THE EAST COAST RAILWAY

THROUGH BOOKING TO BE RESUMED.

TELEGRAPH COMMUNICATION RESTORED.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, SEPT. 29.

An official account of the break in the East Coast Railway supplied to the Press to-day says:—Telegraphic communication has now been restored throughout, the Telegraph Department having as usual taken prompt steps to restore the wires by sending out working parties from both directions. The smaller breaches on the Railway have already been repaired and it is expected that through booking of passengers between Calcutta and Madras will be resumed from to morrow, arrangements being made to tranship passengers and mails over the mile of line that was washed away. The Railway Company are laying a diversion line at this place which will probably be ready for the running of through trains within a week. The amount of water still standing renders it unlikely that it will be ready before that. Until this diversion is ready a delay of 24 hours will be unavoidable on the journey from Calcutta to Madras, but not on the journey from Madras to Calcutta.

It is understood that arrangements are being made with Messrs Kellner and Company to open a refreshment room at Palasa where delay will occur.

Dredgers and divers are already working, clearing away the debris.

LONDON, SEPT. 29.

A further explosion to complete the demolition of the Chatham will be required and the traffic of the Canal will probably be restored in ten days.

THE VICEROY'S COUNCIL.

NO OPPOSITION TO THE EASTERN BENGAL BILL.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

SIMLA, SEPT. 29.

The proceedings at the Viceroy's Legislative Council meeting, to-day, were brief. The Court Fees Act Amendment Bill was passed without discussion.

The Hon. Mr. Richards explained in regard to the Eastern Bengal and Assam Laws Bill that the measure had been published and that no objection had been taken or amendment moved. He then moved the passing of the Bill which was agreed to unanimously.

The Hon. Mr. Hewett then introduced his Bill to further amend the Indian Factories Act. He explained that the object was to secure additional protection for the health and safety of operatives in factories. Clause 2 was to bring within the purview of the Act, certain small factories in the Bombay Presidency and elsewhere which work for a very short time only and are often the scene of serious abuses. Clause 4 directed that the mid-day stoppage of work required under the Act for all operatives in the factory should be shown by a notice to be posted up giving the time of stoppage, the object being to facilitate conviction in case of infringement. There were also other small amendments, one was directed to secure the safety of operatives in case of fire. It forbids smoking and the use of naked lights in certain portions of a factory and insists upon provision of sufficient means of exit in case of fire.

The Council adjourned sine die.

POONA POLO TOURNAMENT.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, SEPT. 29.

Two games in the Semi-Finals of the Poona Open Polo Tournament were played this afternoon in the presence of a large and interested gathering in the pavilion. Both the games were almost one sided and much sympathy was felt for the two local teams which were defeated.

The first game game was between then the 10th Hussars and the 33rd Light Cavalry. The superior form of the Hussars was seen at once who played consistently right through and beat the Cavalry by 8 goals and 3 subs to the latter's 1 goal and 1 sub In the second chukker Mr. Passey came a cropper and fell heavily and had to be assisted off the ground with injured back and shoulder. Captain Alexander who was ill recently pluckily took his place.

The second match was between the Poona Horse and the Scouts. This was almost wholly an onesided affair, the Scouts practicably having it all their own way. Yet the Poona Horse pluckily, if not successfully, just managed to avert a wholesale defeat by scoring 2 goals and 1 sub, to the Scouts' 10 goals and 6 subs. The second goal of the Poona Horse was scored in the final "chukker" half a second before time was up. They were singularly unfortunate with their team. Mr. Grimshaw who was down to play had fever. The Nawab of Bhopal offered to let Intez Ali who played in the winning team at Delhi, but as his services at present are engaged with the Nawab of Bhopal as polo master there, they had to take Mr. Black. The following are the results of the games with names :—

THE CHANNEL FLEET AT COPENHAGEN.

THE British Channel Fleet arrived at Copenhagen on Sept. 8 at 10 o'clock. Admiral Sir A. K Wilson and the other flag officers of the British Fleet landed at half-past 11 and accompanied by Commander Evans, called at the British Legation and the Ministry of Marine. They subsequently returned to their ships. In the course of the morning, Prince Waldemar, commander of the Danish Training Squadron, accompanied by the captains of his vessels, paid a visit to the British flagship which Admirals Wilson and Moore shortly afterwards returned. Admiral Wilson, Vice-Admiral Sir A. Moore, Rear-Admiral Sir R. Poore, and Rear-Admiral A L Winsloe, together with their staffs and the Danish officers attached to them during their stay, were received by King Christian at Bernstorff Castle at three o'clock. The audience lasted a quarter of an hour. Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark visited the British flagship in the afternoon.

The Embassy dinner commenced at eight o'clock in the evening. There were present members of the British Legation, Admiral Wilson, Capt. Bradford Fisg-Lieut. Edwards, Vice-Admiral Moore, Lieut. Smyth-Osborne, Rear-Admiral Poore, Lieut. Shephard, Rear Admiral Winsloe Capt. Lambert, Prince Waldemar, Princess Marie, Prince Charles, Princess Maude, the Danish Minister, of Marine, the Foreign Minister, Admiral Wandel and Admiral Scheiter. Altogether 34 covers were laid. The table was decorated with old silver vases and pink and white gladioli.

King Christian, King George of Greece, the Crown Prince and Prince Charles of Denmark, and the Prime Minister on Sept. 9 visited the British Channel Fleet on board the yacht "Dannebrog." A royal salute was fired as the yacht passed down the flag lines. The royal party, boarded the flagship Exmouth, where they were received by Admiral Sir A K Wilson, surrounded by the other flag officers. After the officers had been presented by Sir A. K Wilson, King Christian inspected the men and the ship. The royal party then adjourned to the saloon, where refreshments were served. King Christian drank to the health of King Edward, Queen Alexandra, and the British Navy. The royal party then again proceeded in the Dannebrog past the British ships amid cheers from the whole fleet. On landing King Christian returned to Amalienborg Palace

King Christian gave a banquet in the evening in honour of the British Fleet. The guests included all the members of the royal family in Copennagen, the Premier, the Foreign Minister, the members of the British Legation, Admirals Sir A. K Wilson, Sir A. W. Moore, Sir R. Poore and Winsloe, the commanders of the British ships, and many Danish naval officers. Towards the conclusion of the dinner the King tossed the British Navy and drank the health of King Edward and Queen Alexandra. The band played the British National Anthem. Sir A.K. Wilson in reply expressed his thanks for the kind reception accorded the Channel Fleet by the Danish royal family, authorities, and people. The admiral then proposed the toast of King Christian and the royal house of Denmark, the band playing the Danish Hymn.

The King has conferred upon Admiral Wilson the Grand Cross of the Order of the Dannebrog in diamonds, while Vice-Admiral Moore has received Grand Cross, and Rear-Admirals Poore and Winsloe have been nominated commanders of the Order of the first class.

The flag officers of the British Channel Fleet accompanied by their respective staffs, were entertained on Sep. 9 at luncheon by Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark. At half-past two 200 British bluejackets and 50 Danish bluejackets were driven to the Zoological Gardens, where a fete had been organised in their honour. Sixty-five British and as many Danish naval officers were present in the evening at a banquet in honour of the Channel Fleet's visit, given by Prince Waldemar at the hotel d'Angleterre, Admiral Scheiter drank to King Edward, King Christian, and the British Navy. The senior British officer present in reply expressed his thanks for the hospitable reception accorded to the Channel Fleet.

The Queen, Princess Victoria, Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, and Prince and Princess Waldemar on Sept. 11 paid a visit to the Channel Fleet. Salutes were fired from the warships and the forts as her Majesty went out to the flagship on a steam launch. Thousands of spectators lined the shore. The royal visitors were received by Admiral Wilson and his staff on board the Exmouth. The Queen then inspected the battle-ship, and took some photographs. After lunching on board, the visitors took their leave at half-past two, her Majesty expressing the pleasure the visit had given her. Another salute was fired as the steam launch proceeded to the shore. In the afternoon Admiral Wilson gave a matinee. There was a large number of guests, among them being the Minister of Defence and the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Hon. Alan Johnstone, the British Minister, gave a dinner and ball at night to mark the conclusion of the festivities in connection with the visit of the British Fleet. Some 200 guests were invited, including the Danish Ministers, the Corps Diplomatique, 40 British and 40 Danish naval officers, the Copenhagen Municipal authorities, and some 50 other Indian and gentlemen. At 10 o'clock Queen Alexandra, Prince and Princess Victoria, King George of Greece, the Crown Prince of Denmark, and Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark arrived. The ball began at half-past 10, Queen Alexandra dancing the opening quadrille with the British Minister and having for vis a vis the Crown Prince of Denmark and the Hon. Mrs. Johnstone. Supper was served at 11. Dancing continued until nearly one o'clock in the morning.

A number and twenty British and Danish officers left Copenhagen on Sept. 11 by special train for Frederiksborg. After visiting the Castle the party proceeded to Elsinore where luncheon was served. Commodore Scheiter proposed the toast of the British guests, the speech being followed by Rule Britannia. Capt Fleet, of his Majesty's ship Swiftsure then expressed the thanks of the British officers The proceeding concluded with the singing of the Danish naval song, Holmens Sok. The party returned to Copenhagen in the evening delighted with their excursion.

Early on Sept. 12 Admiral Wilson paid a farewell visit to Prince Waldemar, commander of the Danish Squadron, on board the Oliver Fleet. At half past nine o'clock the whole of the British fleet, with the torpedo-destroyers leading, steamed out of Copenhagen Harbour, under salute from the Danish forts and battleships, on its way to Scotland. Officers and men alike express themselves as delighted with their visit and keenly appreciative of the unaffected hospitableness extended towards them by the people of Copenhagen. The men of the fleet, it may be observed, displayed most excellent discipline ashore.

Professor Georg Brandes, the famous Danish author, who has written a treatise on Shakespeare, which, translated into English, has brought him many English admirers, writes in the "Politiken" as follows:—"It is not too much to say that, looking at the world at large, the present policy of Great Britain is the most attractive from the point of view of political freedom and modern civilisation. The friendly relations between France and England, in the establishment of which King Edward took such a prominent part, may be described as one of the most joyful events of a lifetime. So earnest have the efforts on the part of England been that the British Government have twice during the regime of M. Delcasse proposed to France to enter into alliance. This offer M. Delcasse was forced to refuse on account of France's alliance with Russia. After his retirement the alliance has become just as much of a reality as if written on paper. We sincerely entertain a wish for the prosperity and success of England. Nothing better could happen to us than to become a protectorate of England, and if that, linked with perfect freedom, was secured for us, then, according to my opinion and that of M. Peschkoff Kosch, our present nominal freedom would not be too dear to sacrifice. If this be called treachery against my county, I will willingly submit to the name of a traitor. What we have here in Denmark of Political culture we have for the greater part received from England, the home of parliamentary freedom. Intellectually we owe a large debt to England, but we are never afraid of being buried under it, because it is, at the same time one of our greatest assets."

STANDARD TIME.

THE following letter has been addressed by the Bombay Native Piece Goods Merchants' Association to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay :—

Respected Sir,—I have the honour to forward you herewith a copy of the resolutions passed at the general meeting of the members of this Association held on the 17th inst., as directed, for the careful consideration of His Excellency the Right Honourable Lord Lamington, Governor of Bombay in Council, while disposing of the question of the introduction of the Standard Time in the City. The necessity of passing such resolutions arose as the Bombay Chamber of Commerce and the Port Trust reversed their original resolutions upon the subject and have decided recently that Government be recommended to introduce this time in the city for the public knowledge, disregarding the inconvenience the public, and especially the Native Traders, are likely to experience thereby.

I am to request most respectfully that Government will be pleased to consult Native Public Bodies before they decide to introduce Standard Time instead of the Solar Time in the City. I submit that the Public and the Native Traders are not at all disposed to adopt the new time, and therefore beg most respectfully to bring to the kind notice of the Government that they are not in favour of it.—I have the honour to be, Respected Sir, your most obedient servant.

(Sd). MANMOHANDAS RAMJI,
Chairman.

Resolutions passed at the general meeting of the Members of the Bombay Native Piece-Goods Merchants' Association held on 17th September 1905

1. That this Association is of opinion that the vast majority of the population, which is purely native, and especially the trading and mercantile classes, are not aware of any cogent and convincing reasons having been adduced for the proposed substitution of Standard for Solar Time.

2. The substitution will greatly inconvenience the population in more than one way, notably in their social and religious matters.

3. That the Government therefore, should be respectfully informed that this Association regrets it cannot approve of the change.

CRICKET AT SANGLI.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

SANGLI, SEPT. 28.

SANGLI has played its last cricket match this season and has upheld to the last its unbeaten record on the 22nd and 23rd September we played a match at Kolhapur against the combined Camp and Town eleven. Winning the toss Sangli elected to take the knock and thanks to good all round play kept Kolhapur leather bunting the whole day. The chief feature of the day's play was an absolutely faultless innings of 136 not out, compiled by Gokhale, other good scores being Joshi, 49 ; Powar, 58. Having made 307 for 7 wickets Sangli declared its innings closed, it may be noticed in passing that with two exceptions the whole of the Kolhapur eleven tried their luck with the ball. Kolhapur in their first innings could only put together 164 runs, thanks to the excellent bowling of Joshi and Ghatwadekar, the former taking 6 wickets for 42 runs. Following on Kolhapur, thanks to a fine innings of 110 by Modak, managed to make 207, and so saved a single innings defeat. Sangli was thus left with 4 runs to get which they did without the loss of a wicket, winning the match by 10 wickets. The Sangli team is to be congratuated on its good record this year and I hope next year they will be able to extend the field of their operations and win for themselves fresh laurels.

INCOME-TAX IN INDIA.

THERE are two points of view from which the income-tax may be regarded ; that of the individual who has to pay it and that of the Government which does the collection. The two views are naturally enough not identical, says the "Pioneer"; it would indeed be surprising if they were. Still the balance of argument rests with Government, who will not be denied its pound of flesh, and can comfort its victims, after the unpleasant operations is over, with figures showing how expeditiously and carefully they have been bled. The Bengal Government has just issued a resolution on the administration of the tax, and is evidently satisfied that all is well. The main feature of the period under review (1902-5) was the passing of Act XI. of 1903 and the exemption of incomes under Rs. 1,000, and the extent of relief afforded by this wholesome measure may be judged from the fact that in the following year (1903-1904) the number of assessees dropped from 123,109 to 51,473, or by 59·2 per cent., though falling off in the demand was only 16 per cent. Whatever complaint could reasonably be urged against the tax has now been removed. By the manipulation of certain other figures, it would appear that if the exemptions under Act XI of 1903 be excluded from the figures of the previous triennium and also from those of the first year of the triennium under report, both the average final number assessees and the average final demand of the triennium under report show an increase, viz., of 6,428 persons and its 4,23,237, or 17 and 100 per cents, respectively. To this sceptical mind perhaps look suspicious, but to the authorities it is nothing more than a sign of more careful inquiry and assessment of the more extended facilities of communication, of the expansion of trade and of the growth of prosperity. The rise in the percentage of objections to assessments in the last two years is not so easy to explain. No doubt, the change in the law has induced cert. in persons to attempt to escape assessment altogether ; but Government admits that in some cases the assessing staff were perhaps unduly zealous in placing in the lowest class persons whose incomes had been previously estimated at slightly less than Rs 1,000. A significant quotation is also made from the report of the Collector of Calcutta, who writes :—One circumstance, which pr minently differentiates the work of Calcutta from that of the mufassal is, that in the latter place the more well-to-do classes are widely known and attract the attention of their neighbours, and when authoritative accounts are not filed the assessing staff can without very great difficulty, obtain useful information from the residents of the locality. In Calcutta on the other hand the popular attitude of unconcern towards his neighbours affairs adds to the difficulty of the local enquiries, and the more refined methods of evasion prevailing among certain classes demand greater care and circumspection on the part of the assessing staff. A study of books from the Lagado Academy, is were better to adopt the alternative system also in favour there of taxing men according to their own estimation of their virtues

PRAYERS FOR THE CESSATION OF THE PLAGUE.

THE Roman Catholic residents of Bandora have arranged to hold a course of Intercessory Prayers for the cessation of the plague, for the space of one year, at the shrine of Our Lady of the Mount, Bandora Hill. This shrine is the Lourdes of the East, and is held in the highest estimation by all classes of people, as is witnessed by the multitudes of Christians, Parsis, Hindus &c., and even Chinese who visit the shrine throughout the year. It is understood that all the Catholic of Bombay, Salsette and Thana have been invited to take part in the prayers, as far as possible, and the first of the series will take place at 6-30 p.m.

LABOUR IN BOMBAY MILLS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—With reference to the mill labour question which has been so ably discussed by your correspondence Mr. Talcherkar, permit me to state one point from my own experience as Timekeeper in a local mill showing how an excellent attempt to limit work to 12 hours for every hand in cotton Mills with electric lights, failed owing to the action of the men themselves. A Bombay Mill working 14 1-2 hours introduced for some time the system of day and night shifts, each shift working twelve hours. This arrangement was received with great disfavour by the Mill operatives of Class I (who form the labor back-bone of Mills) which led eventually to a strike, with the result that the Mill owners had reluctantly to abandon the shifts of 12 hours and to resort to the usual 14 1-2 hours' work.

I quite agree with your correspondent when he says that our mill hands have no representative leaders. Last Sunday's meeting so far as my information goes was mainly attended by men from two or three mills having no electric lights. In a city like Bombay it is not a difficult task to get up monster meetings. It is a significant fact that not a single speaker at last Sunday's meeting should have remembered the late R. B. Lokhande and his brave struggles and good work done by him as President of the old Mill-Hands Association and as an associate of the late Mr. S. S. Bengali, C. I. E., in the fight for the Bombay Factory Act : the promoters of of the gathering apparently had not heard of him ; further comment is superfluous.—Yours &c,

MAHADEO S. TAVDE.

THE "Leeds Mercury" (Sept 11th) writes :—"Bombay mills are competitors, and severe competitors, of Lancashire concerns, and it is a fair subject for Manchester men to take up and, if necessary take action upon. They may do so with more assurance of being listened to in consequence of the action taken by the Bombay Millowners' Association. At a meeting held a month ago it was agreed by 13 votes to 8 that 'the working hours of a mill should not exceed a daily average of 12 hours all the year round.' This is not a very easy resolution to carry out, and it would be much simpler to fix a 12-hours day as the maximum, or to vary it from 11 hours to 13 hours according to the season. Mr. C. S. Procter, who proposed the resolution, declared that the question of hours was not one of competition with Lancashire or Japan, but question of increasing profits, 'which are already anything between 2 per cent. and 50 per cent.' There is, therefore, no possibility of injuring a struggling industry by the regulation of hours, and concerns which are paying so handsome a dividend can have no sympathy with their workmen in calling upon them to labour so long. There is much truth in some of the arguments put forward at this meeting, that the shorter hours would mean healthier workmen, less absence from duty, and probably as great an output. It may be within the mark that Lancashire can do as much in nine hours as Bombay in 13, but there is clearly a strong case for action by the Indian Government, and it should have warm support from operatives in this country."

...ATION IN EUROPE.

THE PEACE NEGOTIATORS IN AMERICA.

New York, Sept. 12.—M. Witte and the other Russian Peace Commissioners sailed on their return to Russia to-day on board the German liner "Kaiser Wilhelm der Zweite." Before leaving M. Witte and Baron Rosen paid a farewell visit to the Japanese Commissioners. Baron Komura, who is ill, sent them a cordial message of farewell through Mr. Takahira. The Japanese entertained the Russians for half an hour.

New York, Sept. 13 ("Reuter").—It is announced that the illness from which Baron Komura is suffering is typhoid fever. His return to Japan has been indefinitely postponed.

Baron Komura has a temperature of 103, and, although the fever is only in the first stage, he is to be very ill.

It has been decided that part of the Japanese peace mission shall return to Japan immediately, while Mr. Takahira will remain here with Baron Komura.

IN MANCHURIA.

The "Times" correspondent with General Nogi's army telegraphs from Tun-chwan-tai on Sept. 11:—I am returning from the front. The date and place of meeting for the purpose of arranging an armistice were to be settled yesterday. The meeting is expected to take place immediately midway between Kalgan and Chang-chun-fu. In the meantime the Russians all along the line are visiting the Japanese under the white flag, showing an extremely friendly disposition. The Army bitterly resents the result of the negotiations and is deeply disappointed that it will not be allowed to make a further effort to force a decisive action.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11 ("Reuter").—A telegram of yesterday's date from Godsiadanistatos that Major-Gen Oranovsky, quartermaster-general of the Staff of the Russian Commander-in-Chief, has been appointed plenipotentiary to conduct the negotiations with the Japanese for an armistice.

Tokio, Sept 12 ("Reuter").—The following report has been issued here:—

In the direction of Shin-king yesterday, General Madrikoff opened an attack on Su shan with about three regiments but was immediately repulsed by the Japanese. General Madrikoff's force is said to have consisted principally of bandits.

THE ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE.

THE "RUSS" ON THE TREATY.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the "Standard" usefully sends to his paper the complete text of the remarkable article on the above question which appeared in the "Russ." This is as follows:—

"The new Anglo-Japanese alliance has a manifest connection with the Russo-Japanese treaty. This is proved by their almost complete coincidences in time. The Anglo-Japanese alliance was signed three or four days before Aug. 29. When the Mikado's Ministers gave the Portsmouth Plenipotentiaries his assent to the final concession that astonished the world, he was already in possession of the treaty with England, and it furnished him with the assurance that what had already been gained would safeguard the country in the future. To seek further guarantees from Russia and insist upon the demand for a contribution or the redemption of Sakhalin—demands that were entirely unacceptable to us—was superfluous after the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

"We do not know, of course, the true cause of the decisions of the Japanese Government. It may have been different, but the logic of events is indisputable. The Anglo-Japanese treaty, signed at the moments when Japan stood at the parting of the ways between peace and war, might be supposed even to have increased her pretensions, if she had been inclined to self-neckedness. However, this did not happen. What happened was the exact contrary. Consequently England, by her step towards more intimate relations with Japan, did not stand in the way of peace, but, on the contrary, furthered it.

"It is another question whether England wished such a result, or if it was attained against her will. We do not discuss this question. It is suffice that England claims no merit as a peacemaker, unlike another Power that claims a great deal, though unable to adduce a single fact in support of its self-praise."

Let us turn from the sad present to the future, and put the question—What importance will the Anglo-Japanese alliance have for our coming relations not only with the Far East, but with the whole world? Judging by what has become known of the principal features of the treaty, England and Japan gone one another from attack, by two or more Powers, but even by a For example, if Russia adopted the recommended by the "Novoe ... similar newspapers she would have to ... the Far East not only the Japanese, but the English also. For such an encounter Russia would have to spend not 12 years, but probably several decades in building a navy. Thus the idea of revenge and further armaments, in itself not a happy one, falls to the ground as unrealisable.

"Moreover, the treaty with Japan safeguards England as well as her Indian possessions. Russia must reckon with the fact that any effort at exercising pressure upon the Afghan or Tibetan frontier have to be supported by enormous forces in the Far East, and will be an operation costing dear, and therefore impracticable as a mere demonstration. Thus we have to leave off threatening India. In general the results of Asiatic adventures, the repetition of the Buxhrazavian enterprises, in Mongolia, let us say, or Prince Ukhtomsky's little venture in Tibet, will hereafter be less seducing, because their serious consequences can be foreseen.

"Will this be a great loss to us? We believe not. On the contrary, it will be a great gain. Certain friends of ours will be unable to push us into doubtful schemes in Asia. We shall turn our faces towards Europe where affairs long neglected are awaiting us. Our foreign politics will cease to haunt bankers as soon as those backstairs are found dangerous from fires, and will open a long closed front door. This will be displeasing only to our friends in Germany, who often contrived situations to shut off the facade of our Imperial edifice and therefore obligingly pointed out our tasks in the rear. We do not refer to the Slavs, who delighted over the peace; nor the French, who were equally happy. Austria is also satisfied; to whose aged monarch King Edward a few days ago promised to support the maintenance of his empire after his demise. In this task of maintaining the status quo in Central Europe, we willingly go hand-in-hand with England. The latter assured on the score of the status quo in India, will quickly realise that there can be no interests to cause a dispute with Russia, whose face is turned towards Europe.

"In these circumstances, our position in Europe will not only be not difficult and not isolated; but, on the contrary, we shall play the role of a great decisive factor, the true role of a first class great Power. It is a pity we did not succeed in concluding with Japan, when the occasion offered the treaty signed now by England, whereby the latter is assured a quiet predominance in Southern Asia. However, if we are faced to take this wise step ourselves. If our place is already taken, we have no occasion for excessive regrets. The Anglo-Japanese Alliance guaranteeing us for a long time against fantastic and furious Asiatic adventures, and pointing out to us our becoming role in Europe, may prove the most favourable international combination of recent times, so far as we are concerned."

THE STATE OF RUSSIA.

ANARCHY AT BAKU.

St. Petersburg, Sept 8 ("Times").—The situation in the Baku region remains desperate. Foreigners have taken refuge on board steamers. Four Englishmen are surrounded at Balakhany, and the authorities declare that they have no sufficient troops for their rescue. There are serious fears for their safety. They are known to have neither food nor water, so they cannot hold out long even if the mob fails to burn the place over their heads.

Sir Charles Hardinge, the British Ambassador, has sent another urgent appeal to Count Lamsdorff, which was promptly transmitted to the Viceroy of the Caucasus.

A telegram just received by the "Russ" says that tens of thousands of workmen marched from the ruined oilfields into Baku, perpetrating deeds of horror on the way. It is reported that they actually threw the wounded alive into the burning oilfires. The troops sent to the spot are quite incapable of coping with the enormous numbers of armed and desperate rioters. To make matters worse Erivan is attacked by prisoners of both, escaping down from the mountains and aiding in the work of death and destruction.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 9 ("Standard").—It is impossible at present to give even an approximate estimate of the loss of life in the disturbances in the Caucasus, but telegrams received here would seem to indicate that the figures run into several thousands. Private advices to hand to-day state that over 100 soldiers have been killed, and that the insurgents have captured a large quantity of small arms, besides two or three guns. It is alleged that in one suburb of Baku 400 Armenians were burned in a courtyard. They sent a frantic request to the Governor for assistance but no help came and all were killed by the Tartars and troops.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10 ("Times").—The four Englishmen, including Mr. Wilson, who were cut off and besieged at Balakhany, have been rescued, thanks to the gallant efforts of Mr. Urquhart formerly British Vice-Consul at Baku, Mr. Cheshire, with a small escort of cavalry lent by the Governor, rode the gauntlet of marauders and assassins and successfully relieved the prisoners. Mr Urquhart who is a Scotsman, was born in Persia and is thoroughly familiar with the language and customs of the country. Indeed, the natives do not regard him as a foreigner. Perhaps it is thanks to this combination of qualities that his plucky attempt succeeded so well.

More troops are being despatched to Baku in consequence of the threatening situation in the neighbourhood of the town.

The pan-Islamic party at Tiflis are advocating a general massacre.

The Russian Ministry of the Interior, the "Standard" learns from a trustworthy source, has issued a circular, marked strictly private, to all Governors of provinces and mayors of towns, giving them stringent orders to keep a close watch on members of the Zemstvos and to certain specified cases, to take vigorous action.

When your vitality is low, you are miserable all the time.

You are languid and depressed, your nerves are weak, and your appetite is poor. Read what did for the invalid daughter of a grateful mother:

"My daughter had for a long time been troubled with violent headaches and sleeplessness. She was pale, had no appetite, and was losing flesh rapidly. She tried various remedies, but received no benefit until she commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking half a bottle she began to feel better. By a continued use of this medicine her appetite returned, her cheeks began to fill out and show color, she gained in strength, her headaches disappeared, she slept better, and now says she feels like a new person."

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "AYER'S."

THE WEEK'S MAIL SUMMARY.

LONDON, SEPT. 15.

HOME

CRICKET.—Rain prevented either of the matches in progress from being played to a finish on Saturday. At Hastings, the Gentleman of the South lost seven wickets for 147 in their first innings against the Players, whose score was 200.—At Scarborough, the first innings of the Australians against Mr. C. I. Thornton's Eleven closed for 3,8—110 ahead. The Englishmen lost half their wickets in their second innings for 176.—The match at Hastings between the South of England and the Australians ended on Wednesday in a draw. The Colonials completed their first innings for 210—77 ahead. The Englishmen, having lost seven wickets for 190 in their second innings, declared, leaving the visitors with 90 to get to win and in the short time available they scored 43 for the loss of two wickets.

Ecclesiastical.—The Bishop of Chester has addressed to the Archbishop of Canterbury a letter on "Liturgical Vestments."—A party of nearly 100 Roman Catholics, including a number of invalids left Charing cross on Tuesday morning on a pilgrimage to Lourdes.—General "Booth and his staff made a processional motor car entry into London on Saturday.

Election Intelligence.—Polling took place on Friday in the Elgin Burghs to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. A. Asher (L.). The result was declared on Saturday afternoon, Mr. J. Sutherland (L.) was returned receiving 2,474 votes against 1,021 recorded for Mr. P. Ross-Lunos (U.)—a majority of 1,453. This result involves no change in the political representation of the constituency.

Ireland.—Replying to a letter from Sir John Colomb M.P., Mr. Walter Long, Chief Secretary for Ireland says that since the passing of the Act of 1903, the transfer of land from owners to occupying tenants has encountered only one impediment—the insufficiency of funds. He has come to an arrangement with the Treasury under which they have agreed to provide additional funds amounting to two millions, before the end of the present year, together with such an amount of stock during the year 1906, as will produce in two loans ten millions of cash.—Our Dublin Correspondent describes a new development in the Irish University question.—Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman replying to an inquiry from the Dublin Liberal Unionist Association, as to the powers of imposing tariff duties which he would propose to give to an Irish Legislature intimates that he has, at present no desire to add to his former utterances on the subject.

Political Speeches.—Mr. Balfour, on Saturday, opened at North Berwick, a bazaar in aid of the funds of the local Volunteer battalion, and made an important speech on Imperial defence.

The King reached London from Marienbad on Saturday. On Monday he travelled by special train to Ollerton for Rufford Abbey, where he stayed as the guest of Lord Savile for the Doncaster Race week.

The Queen left London last week for Copenhagen.

The Witham Railway Accident.—The inquest on the victims of this accident was concluded last week. The jury found that the deceased lost their lives through part of the train becoming derailed. They were unable to say whether the derailment was due to defective permanent way or rolling-stock, or both, and could find no proof of negligence on the part of any of the company's servants. The son of Mrs. Sewell, who was killed in the accident, has also died.

EMPIRE.

Australia.—Favourable Budget statements were made on Tuesday in the New South Wales and South Australian Assemblies by the respective State Treasurers.

New Zealand.—The report of Major-General Babington, commanding the New Zealand Defence Force, shows that there is great room for improvement in the administration and organization of the force.

South Africa.—The members of the British Association arrived at Bulawayo on Saturday morning. Sub equently the President, Professor Darwin, opened a new museum. The tour was on Tuesday brought to a memorable close by a visit to the Victoria Falls of the river Zambesi where the members of the Association were hospitably entertained by the representatives of the British South Africa Company, and the President, Professor Darwin, performed the ceremony of opening the new Victoria Falls railway bridge.

THE UNITED STATES.

The Anglo-Cuban Treaty.—It is reported that the State Department in Jan. lodged a protest at Havana against the conclusion of this treaty as it then stood.

China and American goods.—The United States Consul at Shanghai reports that the situation has much improved.

Railway Accidents.—On Monday 11 persons were killed by a railway accident in New York.

FOREIGN.

Austria-Hungary.—Baron Fejervary has tendered the resignation of the Hungarian Cabinet.

France.—President Loubet, on Monday witnessed the grand review which closed the military manœuvres in the East of France, and spoke afterwards at a luncheon.

Germany.—The Emperor made speeches recently at a banquet at Homburg and at a luncheon given after a review of troops.

Italy.—A violent earthquake shock was experienced early on Friday morning, over a considerable area in Southern Italy. It was most severe and destructive in Calabria, where the three towns of Pizzo, Monteleone, and Mardrano were almost completely destroyed, and many other towns and villages suffered considerably. It seems only too probable that the number of persons killed will reach 2,000, and the destruction of buildings has been enormous. Energetic measures of relief were adopted by the authorities, and the King give 10,000 lire to the relief fund and himself went to the scene of the disaster. The King showed himself deeply interested by the scenes of desolation which came under his observation.

Japan.—The battleship Mikasa, Admiral Togo's flagship, caught fire at Sasebo on Sunday night, and the flames reached one of the magazines, which exploded, sinking the vessel. Five men are known to have been killed, 251 are missing, and 343 were injured.

Morocco.—It was officially announced in Paris last week, that the Moorish Government had give a complete satisfaction to the demands of France in the affair of the arrest of an Algerian.

Russia.—The news received regarding the position in the Caucasus during the past week has been of the most serious character. A St. Petersburg Correspondent last week said it was estimated that over 1,000 persons had been killed and several thousands wounded. There were nearly 100,000 workless fugitives and almost the whole of industry was ruined. The British Ambassador in St. Petersburg on the 7th, in view of the urgent requests to afford protection to the lives and property of British subjects, communicated with the Russian Government and the Viceroy of the Caucasus. Four Englishmen were reported to be surrounded at Balakhany, but were ultimately rescued. The Russian authorities found difficulty in coping with the disturbances from want of sufficient troops. There was comparative quiet at Baku on Sunday, but on Monday, rioting recommenced. The disorder in the province of Elizabetpol was reported to be spreading and a St. Petersburg Correspondent described the condition of the Caucasus as one of civil war. Later despatches stated that Tartar bands, displaying the green flag, were swarming over the province, that a holy war was being proclaimed, and that all Armenians, without distinction of sex or age, were being massacred.

The Channel Fleet.—The Channel Fleet arrived at Copenhagen on Friday morning. In the afternoon Admirals Wilson and Moore, with their staffs and the British Ministers, visited King Christian at Bernstorff Castle. On Monday, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria visited the Fleet, and were entertained to luncheon on board the Exmouth. The Fleet, which has met with a most cordial reception, left on Tuesday.

The Peace.—The disturbances in Tokio on the 5th inst. in connexion with the manifestation of popular disappointment with the peace terms were more serious than was at first supposed. There was a good deal of rioting after the mass meeting in the municipal park; a number of police-stations were destroyed and in the encounters between the police and the crowd five persons were killed and a large number injured. The disturbances were renewed on the 7th, and an Imperial decree was issued placing the city under martial law. On Friday, however, it was announced that order had been restored. Count Katsura, the Premier, on that day held an informal meeting with members of both Houses of the Diet, at which he made a full statement with regard to the peace negotiations, and pointed out the substantial character of the advantages gained by Japan. The Ministry, having urged the necessity of martial law in Tokio in view of the recent riots, craved the Imperial judgment as to whether they should remain in office. The Mikado on Monday replied advising the Ministers to retain their offices.—Japanese and Russian armistice commissioners met on Wednesday at Shan-ho-tsu station.—Baron Komura, the principal Japanese plenipotentiary in the recent Peace Conference, is lying ill in New York. He is said to be suffering from typhoid fever, and his departure for Japan is indefinitely postponed.

The Scandinavian Rupture.—The delegates assembled at Karlstad decided on September 7 to suspend their sittings for a week in order to enable them to confer with their respective Governments. The conference was resumed on Wednesday.

Golf.—The two final rounds in the late national foursome between H. Vardon and J. H. Taylor (England) and J. Braid and A. Herd (Scotland) took place over the Deal course on Saturday. The Englishmen, who had a balance of seven holes in their favour from the previous stages, increased their advantage to 13 holes in the morning round, and in the afternoon won the match at the sixth hole, being 18 holes up with 12 to play.—At St. Andrews, on Friday, the final of the tournament for the Queen Victoria Jubilee Vase was won by Mr. W. E. Fairlie, who beat Mr. Spencer Gollan by one hole up.—At Lahloch, Mr. Horace Castle, of Chiswick, carried off the South of Ireland championship, defeating Mr. A. C. Lincoln, of East Finchley by 3 up and 3 to play.

Naval and Military.—Field-Marshal Sir George White unveiled on Saturday at Liverpool a memorial to officers and men of the Liverpool Regiment who fell in Afghanistan Burma, and South Africa. At the Shoeburyness artillery meeting last week the King's prize for garrison artillery was won by the Fifth Company 1st Dorset Garrison Artillery Volunteers. The second prize was won by the Seventh Company 1st Cumberland G. A. Volunteers.

CONSTIPATION

Constipation never comes alone. It is the ringleader of a band of terrors. The score of ailments and disorders it brings may be nameless, but they are none the less painful. Heat and restlessness,—a bloated feeling,—splitting headaches,—piles,—heartburn,—the recurring of food,—inability to sleep,—a constant feeling of despondency,—entire loss of appetite,—complete loss of interest in your work,—all these arise from constipation. Constipation is the result of an inactive liver. Bile Beans stimulate the liver to natural activity, and by correcting this organ, which dominates everything, drive out all above symptoms by removing their cause.

Mrs. Elizabeth North, of York Street, Dublin, says:—"I had long suffered from constipation, but last year the complaint became serious, and brought excruciating abdominal and other pains. I could not sleep, and many a time had to sit up all night, so terrible was the pain. My appetite seemed to leave me altogether, and I became as weak as a baby. For months I continued in this state. Nothing did me good, and I had almost given up hope when I read about Charles Forde's Bile Beans curing a person in this city. I at once started using the Beans and soon began to feel better. By the end of a week there was no doubt that my condition was vastly improved.

"I continued with Bile Beans, and gradually my bowels recovered their healthy, natural activity, and the terrible pains I had endured ceased. Bile Beans certainly cured me, and that when I had despaired of ever being well again."

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

LONDON, SEPT. 15.

A LAUDABLE SUBVERSION.

The leaden glazed coffin is not the first which has been of curious character. There was a Sir Thomas Bancroft who in old London days heaped up riches on the cost of others. When his time came to go, he, like the miser, could not bring himself to "give and bequeath"—ambitious inconsistency—but left his estate to be improved until by almost incredible, which interesting performance he expected shortly to achieve. So he had a window in his coffin, negotiable from the interior, and duplicate and a glazed door to his tomb, and ordered that frequent interests should be opened for inspection by the trustees. But the trustees had enough of the gentleman. They had no desire to see him again about. They built almshouses at Mile End with his estate, and he has not yet come back to claim the reversion.

THE LONG ARM.

The coincidences narrated in "The Standard" make good, excellent reading that one may be pardoned perhaps for adding a couple of instances which have arisen out of this column. The first is associated with a famous old castle in Sussex, owned by a well-known baronet. Something led the writer to refer in a note to previous ownerships of the castle, and in particular to one family which, a century and a half ago, sold the place and disappeared from the rolls of the notable. The note caught the eye of the present-day head of the family in question. His grand-daughter is the wife of the baronet owning the castle. Neither the grandsire, nor the baronet, nor his wife knew, prior to the appearance of this chance paragraph, that the castle, the lady is mistress by marriage was the ancestral home of her ancestors.

A BOW AT A VENTURE.

Two men are about to meet as the result of a story told in this column. One is a London physician, the other a captain coming from the other side of the world to meet him. They are co-heirs of income, it a tragedy. Fifty years ago a man deviated from the route which he had chosen for his ride that night and he dreamed that she saw him waiting to murder him for the money which he [illegible] was murdered on the spot as [illegible] advertisement. A boy sat at table as [illegible] was carried up to the house. He heard no word of the matter for fifty years when he saw the story recalled in this column. The latter found its way to the deck of a ship twelve thousand miles away to be read by the purser of the doctor who was dead. The article gave him particulars of the mystery for the first time. A letter to the writer and a recent mail brings the news that the captain is coming home to meet the son of the man in mistake for whom the captain's uncle was murdered.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

Mr. Balfour's speech on Saturday put into a nutshell the view which he holds as to the status and duties of the Volunteers. Those do not differ from the views of the Volunteers themselves. They know that they are for home defence but their fitness and willingness for foreign service has been [illegible] demonstrated. In some they differ from [illegible] another of service was qualified by so many conditions of which was that they were not to be sent out of the country, that he made in the event the note except in case of actual invasion. The Volunteers have been the butt of many men's wit. Even Palmerston had his little fling at them when he gaily sniggered said Queen Victoria as the Volunteers, brave and glorious in new uniforms, marched past her in Hyde Park; what a stuffy smell l'esprit de corps, ma'am, commented Pam, who stood at her elbow.

THE PIPE OF PEACE.

Those bees which escaped from a Moscow menagerie to be ignominiously driven back to their den by a stream of water from a hose-pipe might be convicted if they could but know that the same weapon has proved efficacious against crowds of angry humans which would have stood up to deadly missiles. Still, it was a happy thought to apply the hose in this case, but the right man for the work would have managed the business even without the pipe. Some men tackle a lion with as complete assurance of success as others handle a chicken horse or dog. These must to be a man at the Zoo who possessed this faculty in a greater degree than he knew. One Sunday afternoon a lion broke from his cage. The keeper seized him by the mane and kicked him back to his den as if he had been a donkey. When the door of the cage slammed upon the lion, fight seemed to break to upon the keeper, and—he swooned.

KINGS KING.

P. T. Barnum once had a cage of five fierce lions, valuable from the fact that no man dared enter their cage. There came to the show one day a big German who was engaged to assist in keeping the cage tidy. Soon he was missed and subdued mutterings and roarings from the lion's quarters directed a search in that direction. There was a flaw in the cage sweeping smartly. The unmanable lions cowered like a conner, and when Hans wanted to sweep [illegible] easily shooed them out of the way with his broom. No flock of sheep could have been [illegible] with greater ease. The manager [illegible] German to come out—he would [illegible] Hans went on whistling and sweeping. He did not [illegible] the set of his sweeps. But he gained the remarkable distinction of the first attempt.

SPECIALISED COURAGE.

Courage manifests itself in many ways. The dull Russian peasant, when put up to be shot as by foreign marksmen; the fireman, who gives his life in the attempt to save others; the physician and the expert; the man who tackles wild beasts in their lairs; the man who braves the perils of the deep, or the danger of life in upper air—these all afford admirable examples of courage. Napoleon had a special affection for the man who best showed fight when surrounded from his bed at two o'clock in the morning. That is not that as the courage as any which enables a girl by singing "O Rest in the Lord" to allay the terrors of a boatful of shipwrecked people; which enables a mother when the [illegible] to plunge fallow the waves to save her son thought to saving her boy? Any mother would do the like perhaps, but would every mother in such a moments have the coolness to tie a handkerchief to the boys clothing and so enable him to keep afloat, though also herself must die?

AN UNSOLVED MYSTERY.

The extraordinary story of kidnapping at Sheffield recalls a story of more than twenty years ago, in which the central figure was the daughter of a magnate. It was stated that while walking in the neighbourhood of her residence near Wandsworth she was seized by two persons, believed to be [illegible] to remain silent, dragged into a shrubbery, and there pulled to the ground and several times stabbed with a knife, whose shape, however, failed to [illegible] the lady's race was [illegible] with mud, her hair was dishevelled, and there was a slight cut across one of her hands. But although subsequent [illegible] Sir William Harcourt, then Home Secretary, informed Parliament that the police had failed to discover any circumstances corroborating the lady's statement of the strange affair.

WAR OF INTOLERANCE.

The [illegible] in Tokio makes most distressing reading after all that the Japanese have done to [illegible] the admiration and wonder of the world, [illegible] is well to be the Japanese should [illegible] too harshly judged: France has had her [illegible], America her Civil War and essentially all the [illegible] of Russia, the bloody internecine [illegible] over questions which have not more sharply divided public opinion than does the present Peace Party in England; history of relatively modern date has recorded all too many scenes such as are now [illegible] in Tokio. The Genius Loci, for [illegible] often regarded as a sort of grim burlesque were most ascetic in character. During [illegible] over 200 people were shot dead in the streets of London, and [illegible] many carried to the hospitals grievously wounded. And the cause of all [illegible] still carried to relax some of the harsher [illegible] against inoffensive Roman Catholics.

A FOOL AND A MOB.

The [illegible] takes their name from Lord George [illegible] who instituted and headed the mob. He it was [illegible] them to the House of Commons, where [illegible] of workers were chanted that Parliament had to adjourn for several days. In the interregnum terror reigned throughout London. Firstly, it was destroyed the chapels of the Sardinian and Bavarian Ministers, then ravaged Moorfields, [illegible] and house of Sir George Savile, drove Justice in fear from home broke open Newgate and [illegible] and set the prisoners free and burnt the house of Lord Mansfield about his ears, with all the [illegible] it contained. Authority was paralysed. [illegible] and [illegible] Acts and the [illegible], would not act without their [illegible] Colonies was divided as to the legal position here [illegible] King had to issue a proclamation such as [illegible] in Russia to-day.

A LOST LAND.

[illegible] was to build up the theory that in Southern [illegible] was the Cradle whence came the gold of [illegible] Now, in an hour's lecture before the British Association, Mr. Randall MacIver has shattered [illegible] and we are no nearer a definite solution [illegible] Phœnicians [illegible] years ago Josephus fixed upon the [illegible] of Malacca as the site. Other [illegible] have their claims, but Malacca seems best [illegible]. The voyage to Ophir occupied three year [illegible] and homeward and the cargo consisted of [illegible], ivory, apes, peacocks and algum wood. Peacock is to Hebrew tukkim, from toge the name still used [illegible] Malabar, is derived from the Sanskrit. [illegible] is identified with the cinnamon of [illegible] and the authority of road seeking is thereby [illegible] of Herodotus that the Indians were [illegible] among which paid tribute to Darius in this [illegible].

Worry and Anxiety

almost inevitably lead to a weakened and impoverished condition of the nervous systems These are forms of mental and nervous fatigue, and indicate that the nervous system is unequal to the demands made upon it by business responsibilities, social obligations, or professional duties. Such feelings give urgent and emphatic warning that the entire nervous system has become enfeebled, either as a consequence of nervous overstrain or owing to imperfect nutrition, resulting from physical illness or disorder.

Nervous Debility

of which worry and anxiety are such distressing symptoms, demands special treatment the nature of which is easily understood. If the body be weak it shows that fitting nourishment is required, and the same is equally true if the nervous system be weakened. It needs proper nutrition.

But how seldom the exhausted nervous system receives the right treatment. In many cases stimulants are resorted to, which give moral, fictitious and temporary strength to the nerves, but actually leave them more weakened and worn out than before. If the nervous system be exhausted it really requires a remedy that will assist the nervous system to assimilate nourishment from the ordinary food, and will at the same time supply the vital nerve elements which are lost under the strain of overwork. Such a remedy is found in

Bishop's Tonules

A Nerve Nutrient not a Stimulant.

Bishop's Tonules are a thoroughly scientific preparation, free from harmful drugs and act directly upon the nerves, improving their nutrition, building up the worn away tissues, and restoring the impoverished nervous system to full health and vigour.

To understand how and why Bishop's Tonules do this it must be borne in mind that in nervous disorders generally the nerve and brain substance is worn away faster than it can be replaced. The nerves also lack the power to extract from the food taken the elements which they have lost, and until they can do this there can be no improvement in their exhausted condition.

The principal of these nervous disorders are as follows: Nervous and General Debility or Impaired Vitality, indicated by Lassitude, Fatigue, Want of Mental and Physical Energy, Weakened Will Power, Inability for Sustained Mental Effort, Irritability and Brain Fag, Nervous Exhaustion, Indecision and Lack of Confidence and "Pluck," Mental Depression, Worry and Anxiety, Forebodings, Morbidity and Melancholy, Neurasthenia, or a worn-out condition of the Nervous System generally, characterised by Headache, Vertigo, Muscular and Nervous Prostration, and Diminished Mental Powers.

There is no pretence that Bishop's Tonules do anything magical or extraordinary They simply supply those elements that are lacking, and supply them in such a form that they can be taken up easily and naturally by the nerves. Hence it is only reasonable to expect nerve restoration where they are used.

Obviously this takes time, just as an ill-nourished body cannot be built up in a day; but the result of a continued course of treatment by Bishop's Tonules will be the restoration of the nervous system to perfect health and strength.

The effects of the Tonule treatment may not be apparent immediately, but after a short time there is an improvement in the appetite, the assimilation of food is promoted, the liver stimulated, and the flow of bile increased. The various organs of the body all show improved activity and the building up of the tissues is hastened. The eyes grow brighter and the complexion more healthy. There is a tendency for thin subjects to gain flesh, while soft and flabby flesh becomes firm. In addition to all these evidences of the power of Bishop's Tonules, the symptoms of nervous debility and exhaustion gradually disappear, and it is only a question of time as to how long it will take for the whole nervous system to be restored to full strength.

Bishop's Tonules

A Fortnight's Treatment 2/9.

A letter has just been received from a gentleman in Hampshire in the following terms:—"I have now gone through a fortnight's course of Bishop's Tonules with great benefit. I was suffering from nervousness and depression, and these have almost disappeared, especially the latter. I took one Tonule with each of my three meals."

Bishop's Tonules are supplied in vials containing a fortnight's treatment, made by Alfred Bishop (Limited), Spelman-street, Mile End New Town, London, supplies may be obtained from your chemist or drug store for 2s. 9d. Alfred Bishop (Limited) are Manufacturing Chemists only, and have but one address.

Note There are two points we wish specially to emphasise. One is that it is expressly unwise to delay commencing the treatment with Bishop's Tonules if you are suffering from nervousness or [illegible]. You are suffering from nervousness or [illegible]. Yours [illegible]

A SOLVED QUESTION.

The question now-a-days among Smokers is, Why should Vafiadis [illegible] justly appreciated?

The answer is not far to seek.

It is because Vafiadis having had a life-long experience in Tobacco knows what is suitable to these peculiar climate of India, and it also is because their only intention is to satisfy their thousands of Customers by guaranteeing a new consignment of their Cigarettes every fortnight.

It is for above facts it is due that their Cigarettes are so highly praised and smoked by the Nobility, and are pronounced by connoisseurs to be superior to all others.

Liqueur Exquisite, Tonic Digestive and Efficacious

BENEDICTINE

Possessing most Powerful Germ-killing Properties.

The BENEDICTINE liqueur is beneficial to health owing to its spirituous foundation being composed only of eau-de-vie (brandies) of the very purest quality.

Its principal characteristics may be summed up as follows:—

Distinctness of taste, richness of flavour and a delicious bouquet improving with age.

Moreover, the fact has never been disputed, that when diluted with cold water, the liqueur is possessed of great ANTIAPOPLECTIC (against apoplexy, sudden loss of sense and voluntary motions), APERIENT (slow purgative), DIGESTIVE and ANTISPASMODIC (against convulsions, qualities). REFRESHES and STRENGTHENS the nervous and tired brain marvellously, and works as a perfect boon to invalids and a blessing combined with luxury to mankind.

Many celebrated doctors and literary men both in France and other countries have given the liqueur the brilliant testimony of their appreciation, as may be seen by the following letters:—

Those of my readers who have confidence in my culinary recommendations, and I trust there are many, will do well to note that I prefer BENEDICTINE to all other liqueurs.

ALEXANDER DUMAS, père.

At a time when the luxuries of the table are sought after on all sides, I do not hesitate to admire and recommend Benedictine as the queen of liqueurs, now to be seen on many tables. It is found and appreciated also in restaurants, in private families, and in the cabins of princes.

H. DE PENE.

THEOPHILE THORÉ.

LIQUEUR BENEDICTINE.—Among the liqueurs introduced or manufactured by the monks of France, the Benedictine from a hygienic point of view occupies the foremost rank. It is not only an excellent and savory beverage for persons in good health, but in cases of illness or recovery it is equally beneficial. It may be used to advantage in all cases, where Malaga, Sherry, Port, &c., are recommended.

The Benedictine is famous also for its agreeable scent, and for its really salutary effects as a digestive; and it is principally on these accounts that this liqueur should be preferred to "Moritzi qui non titillat."

Extract from the "Gazeta Medicale."

After meals we know of nothing more agreeable than a small glass or two of Benedictine. It permeates the brain, delights the palate, promotes digestion, and is a powerful aid to an inactive or overloaded stomach. Parties an agréable, and for curtailing the evil effects of an inquiet constitution, its curative action is interpolate. At the beginning of last autumn we had occasion to appreciate the full value of the liqueur, and we are now happy to give it our highest praise.
